"Have you ever loved someone that you never had?"

What kind of question is that to leave your wife-to-be with nine days before your wedding as you jet off to check on another woman?

In Promises Beyond Jordan, this question becomes a thundering theme for many characters of this drama-laden, spirit-filled tale of family, love, friendship, commitment, scars (seen and unseen), secrets, sacrifices and promises.

As if all this weren't enough, there's a scandal brewing that threatens to destroy Wings of Grace Faith Ministry Church along with its dreadlocks-sporting, Word-teaching pastor.

THEN: Four years ago, Cara Reynolds gave her heart to Leon Hightower only to discover his damning secret, that he was a married man. Hurting and broken-hearted, she walked out of his life and vowed to never let a man trample her heart again

NOW: Leon is back. And he seeks not only forgiveness, but a chance to love Cara again. Cara wants nothing to do with him. Unfortunately, her heart refuses to follow the dictates of her mind. She can't resist Leon's vows of love and passion. At last, they find out that their love is strong enough to conquer not only past betrayals and pains, but a deranged psycho hell-bent on destroying Cara.

Successful, Smart, & Straight...

Is that too much for a woman to want in a man?

Candace Turner is beginning to think so. At 29, she has almost everything a woman can possibly want – a thriving business and her own home.

The only thing missing is Mr. Right.

If Candace can survive her temperamental pooch, Lady, her bickering friends, and a chronically suicidal mother, she might be able to find her ideal mate.

And if she can't, Mr. Right Now will have to do.

I’ll Be Your Shelter

By

Giselle Carmichael

ISBN 158571108X

Attorney Jillian Newman, advocate for the downtrodden and watchdog of the local police department, witnesses a horrible murder during the height of a thunderous storm in a downtown parking garage. Hunted by gunmen, an attempt is made on her life and she is forced into police protection.

Detective Harrison Blake, one of the city’s finest, is appointed lead detective on the downtown murder case. Prepared for just about anything when it comes to murder, the seasoned detective is completely caught off guard by his instant attraction to the witness. To make matters worse, she’s the ex-wife of his nemesis, the district attorney.

However, neither the differences in their races nor their painful pasts can keep the attraction between the two from blossoming. When another attempt is made on Jillian’s life, Harrison will risk it all, even his most guarded secret for the woman he loves in
